Attorneys for Plaintiff
Shermont Murchison

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT

EASTERN DISTRICT OF WISCONSIN

Shermont Murchison,

Plaintiff,

v.

Experian Information Solutions, Inc.; I.C.
System, Inc.

Defendants.

CASE NO. 2:20-cv-01350

COMPLAINT FOR DAMAGES:

1. Violation of Fair Credit Reporting Act

COMES NOW Plaintiff Shermont Murchison, an individual, based on information and belief, to allege as follows:

INTRODUCTION

1. This case arises under the Fair Credit Reporting Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1681s-2(b), 15 U.S.C. § 1681e(b), 15 U.S.C. § 1681i(a)(2)(A)), 15 U.S.C. § 1681i(a)(4)), and 15 U.S.C. § 1681i(a)(5)(A)).
2. Plaintiff seeks redress for the unlawful and deceptive practices committed by the Defendants in connection with their inaccurate, misleading, or incomplete reporting of Plaintiff's debt included and discharged in Plaintiff's Chapter 7 bankruptcy.

3. Defendant I.C. System, Inc. (hereinafter “IC”) is reporting Plaintiff’s account as a collections account that was opened three months after entry of Plaintiff’s discharge, despite the account being included and discharged in Plaintiff’s bankruptcy filing.
4. Such reporting is wholly inaccurate, misleading, and adversely impacts Plaintiff’s credit worthiness.
5. Plaintiff’s credits score has been adversely impacted by the reporting.
6. Plaintiff’s credit reports have been disseminated to third parties since the entry of his discharge and Plaintiff has been unable to obtain favorable interest rates as a result of the reporting by IC.
7. The United States Congress has found the banking system is dependent upon fair and accurate credit reporting. Inaccurate credit reports directly impair the efficiency of the banking system, and unfair credit reporting methods undermine the public confidence, which is essential to the continued functioning of the banking system.

JURISDICTION & VENUE

8. Plaintiff re-alleges and incorporates herein by this reference the allegations in each and every paragraph above, fully set forth herein.
9. This Court has jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331, 1337, and 1367, and 15 U.S.C. § 1681
10. This venue is proper pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §1391(b)(1).

GENERAL ALLEGATIONS

11. Plaintiff alleges that each and every defendant data furnisher was included in Plaintiff’s Chapter 7 bankruptcy filing or had notice of Plaintiff’s bankruptcy filing and discharge.
12. Plaintiff alleges that IC received notice of Plaintiff’s chapter 7 filing or had reason to know of Plaintiff’s bankruptcy filing and discharge.
13. Plaintiff alleges that each and every Defendant is familiar with credit reporting industry standards and subscribes thereto.
14. Plaintiff alleges that each and every Defendant understands that deviation from credit reporting industry standards can and often does result in denial of credit, higher interest rates, and prompts those making credit decisions to draw a more negative inference from the reported data than if the Defendant reported in accordance with the recognized industry standard.

15. Plaintiff alleges that all actions alleged herein by Defendants were done knowingly, intentionally, and in reckless disregard for credit reporting industry standards in an attempt to purposefully undermine Plaintiff's ability to reorganize and repair Plaintiff's FICO Score.
16. In the alternative Plaintiff alleges that each and every Defendant's actions was the result of reckless policies and procedures that inevitably led to inaccurate, misleading, or incomplete credit reporting.

FICO, Inc.

17. FICO is a leading analytics software company with its principal headquarters located in San Jose California. FICO has over 130 patents related to their analytics and decision management technology, and regularly uses mathematical algorithms to predict consumer behavior including credit risk.
18. The FICO Score has become the standard measure of consumer credit risk in the United States and is used in ninety percent of lending decisions.
19. A FICO score consists of a three-digit number summarizing a consumer's credit risk or likelihood to repay a loan. FICO periodically updates its scoring models resulting in multiple FICO Score versions.
20. Base FICO Scores range from 300 to 850, while industry-specific FICO Scores range from 250-900. A higher FICO Score demonstrates lower credit risk or less likelihood of default.
21. Different lenders use different versions of FICO Scores when evaluating a consumer's credit worthiness.
22. There are 28 FICO Scores that are commonly used by lenders.
23. A consumer's FICO Score is calculated based solely on information in consumer credit reports maintained at credit reporting agencies (CRAs).

24. The three largest CRAs are Experian Information Solutions, Inc.; Equifax, Inc. and Transunion, LLC.
25. FICO does not control what information is provided on a consumer's credit report. Instead, the scoring models or algorithms are based on the premise that information provided by the CRAs is accurate and complies with credit reporting industry standards.
26. There are five key factors that a FICO Score considers: 1) Payment History 2) Amount of Debt 3) Length of Credit History 4) New Credit and 5) Credit Mix.
27. Each of the five factors is weighted differently by FICO.
28. 35% of a consumer's FICO Score relates to payment history, 30% relates to the amount of debt, 15% relates to the length of credit history, 10% relates to new credit, and the last 10% relates to a consumer's credit mix or the different types of debts reported.
29. Payment history refers to whether a consumer has paid their bills in the past, on time, late or missed payments. The more severe, recent, and frequent the late payment information, the greater the impact on a FICO Score. Public record items such as bankruptcy, foreclosure, judgments, and wage garnishments are also considered part of a consumer's payment history.
30. In factoring the severity of delinquent payments, a FICO Score considers how late the payment continues to be, how much is owed, how recently this occurred, and how many delinquent accounts exist.
31. Once a delinquent account has been remedied the longer the account stays current the more a consumer's FICO Score should increase.
32. FICO Scores are entirely dependent upon information provided by data furnishers (DFs) to CRAs.
33. The FICO scoring formula treats both Chapter 7 and Chapter 13 Bankruptcies similarly in terms of their impact on one's FICO Score. Specifically, both Chapters have the same level of severity with respect to their FICO Score and for both, FICO uses the FILING DATE to determine how long ago the bankruptcy took place.

e-OSCAR

34. E-OSCAR is the web-based Metro 2 compliant system developed by Experian Information Solutions, Inc.; Equifax, Inc.; TransUnion, LLC and Innovis that enables DFs and CRAs to create and respond to consumer credit disputes.
35. When a consumer sends a dispute letter to a CRA the CRA then sends an automated credit dispute verification (ACDV) via e-Oscar to the DF.
36. The ACDV contains within it Metro 2 codes next to certain data fields associated with a credit file e.g. "Account Type" "07" (07 in Metro 2 refers to a Charge Account).
37. regarding a consumer's credit worthiness.

Plaintiffs Bankruptcy Filing

38. Plaintiff filed for Chapter 7 bankruptcy protection on June 12, 2019 in order to discharge various debts and improve Plaintiff's credit worthiness and FICO Score.
39. Plaintiff received his Chapter 7 discharge on September 23, 2019.
40. On May 27, 2020 Plaintiff ordered a credit report from Experian, Equifax, and TransUnion to ensure proper reporting by Plaintiff's creditors after entry of his discharge.
41. Plaintiff noticed several different trade lines on the May 27, 2020 credit report all reporting inaccurate, misleading, or incomplete information that did not comply with credit reporting industry standards.
42. An account with IC reported Plaintiff's account as a collections account that was opened in December of 2019, despite the account being open prior to Plaintiff's bankruptcy filing.
43. In response, Plaintiff disputed the inaccurate IC tradeline via certified mail with Experian, Equifax, and TransUnion on May 27, 2020.
44. Plaintiff's dispute letter specifically put defendant IC on notice that Plaintiff had filed for bankruptcy and that the account should not be listed as opened in December of 2019. Plaintiff provided the correct date the account was opened and requested the incorrect date be fixed.
45. Plaintiff is informed and believes that each CRA received Plaintiff's dispute letter and in response sent Plaintiff's dispute to each DF via an ACDV through e-OSCAR.

46. On May 19, 2020 after the statutory time period had elapsed for Plaintiff to receive a reinvestigation report from the CRAs, Plaintiff ordered a second credit report from Experian, TransUnion Equifax for the sole purpose to ensure Plaintiff's accounts had in fact been updated.
47. The IC account listed above had not been updated and was still appearing on Plaintiff's Experian report as opened in December of 2019 rather than December of 2016.

Inaccuracy – IC

48. Plaintiff was frustrated to see that Defendant IC did not properly update the account but instead continued to report Plaintiff's account as being opened in December of 2019 rather than December of 2016.
49. IC's failure to fix the date of opening makes it appear that the account is a post-filing account that is subject to active collections.
50. Therefore, it appears that IC can still collect against Plaintiff and will remain on Plaintiff's credit report for an additional three years.
51. In addition IC's reporting restarts the applicable statute of limitations period regarding collection on a debt.

Willfulness

52. This was not a negligent act by Defendant IC but instead an intentional act to purposefully undermine Plaintiff's ability to effectively restore Plaintiff's credit through bankruptcy.
53. IC is not following industry standards and is instead reporting incorrect information with the hope that Plaintiff will make a payment on the account.
54. By indicating that the account status as in collections with a date opened of December 2019 it appears that Plaintiff's account was not discharged.
55. IC reporting makes Plaintiff appear less credit worthy because the information contained in the IC tradeline appears to imply the account was opened by Plaintiff post-discharge.

56. Once IC received Plaintiff's dispute rather correct the date opened IC instead ignored the dispute and continued to report the inaccurate information.
57. Plaintiff believes the reporting of the inaccurate and misleading information was done by IC in order to have him make a payment on the account in order to have the negative information removed from his credit report.
58. Such a scheme directly undermines the integrity of not only the bankruptcy court but also the integrity of the credit reporting system at large.

Damages

59. As a result of the incorrect reporting, Plaintiff has suffered economic loss, diminished credit, emotional harm, and excessive stress resulting in doubt as to the effectiveness of the Bankruptcy Code.
60. Plaintiff is frustrated and annoyed that his credit has not improved since the discharge of his chapter 7 bankruptcy as he believed the account with IC was discharged.
61. Plaintiff's anxiety and stress has increased significantly as he learned that IC was not acknowledging the bankruptcy discharge and believes that IC can still collect on the account.
62. Plaintiff's credit score has remained at a low level as a result of the IC reporting, preventing him from rebuilding his credit and impacting his ability to obtain a more favorable interest rate on extensions of credit.
63. The actions of Experian and IC as alleged herein are acts in violation of the Fair Credit Reporting Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1681s-2(b).

FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION

(Violation of Fair Credit Reporting Act 15 U.S.C. § 1681e(b))
Against Defendants)

Experian – Failure to Assure Credit Reporting Accuracy.

64. Plaintiff realleges and incorporates herein the allegation in each and every paragraph above as though fully set forth herein.

65. Experian violated 15 U.S.C. § 1681e(b) by failing to establish and/or to follow reasonable procedures to assure maximum possible accuracy in the preparation of Plaintiff's credit reports and credit files it published and maintained concerning Plaintiff.
66. Had TransUnion maintained reasonable procedures to assure maximum accuracy Equifax would never have allowed Defendant IC to report the account as described herein.
67. As a result of Experian's violation of 15 U.S.C. § 1681e(b), Plaintiff suffered actual damages, including but not limited to: diminished credit, damage to reputation, embarrassment, humiliation, and other mental and emotional distress.

Willfulness

68. The violations described herein by Experian was willful, specifically the Credit Bureaus have intentionally and purposefully set up a system where inaccuracies are not only probable but inevitable.
69. TransUnion intentionally send consumer disputes to employees who do not live within the continental United States.
70. This is done intentionally to hide and or subvert a consumer's ability to confront individual directly responsible for approving accurate reporting.
71. These employees for Defendant Experian receive little to no training concerning how to accurately report consumer debt.
72. Instead these employees are simply instructed to parrot whatever information a data furnisher provides regardless of whether or not that information is accurate. See Saez v. Trans Union, LLC, 621 F.Supp. 2d 1074, 1083, 1088 (D.Or. 2007); Grigoryan v. Experian Info. Sols., Inc., 84 F. Supp. 3d 1044, 1091 (C.D. Cal. 2014); Haykuhi Avetisyan v. Experian Info Sols., No. CV 14-05276-AB (ASX)
73. Experian employees are regularly expected to review and approve over 90 disputes per day rendering less than five minutes to review, investigate, and respond to each dispute received.
74. Experian has intentionally setup this system in order to undermine, hide, and otherwise frustrate consumers' ability to properly dispute and correct credit reports.
75. TransUnion knew Plaintiff filed bankruptcy and received a discharge and yet somehow allowed IC to report inaccurately and obviously outside of recognized industry standards.

76. Given that Experian helped draft the CRRG, and Plaintiff specifically referenced industry guidelines in the dispute letter TransUnion knew that the IC account was not reporting in a manner consistent with industry standards i.e. accurate, but chose to do nothing.
77. Consequently, Defendant Experian is liable for punitive damages in an amount to be determined by the Court pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 1681n. In the alternative, Experian was at least negligent, which entitles Plaintiff to recovery under 15 U.S.C. § 1681o.
78. Plaintiff is entitled to recover actual damages, statutory damages, costs and attorney's fees from Experian in an amount to be determined by the Court pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 1681n and § 1681o.

SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION

(Violation of Fair Credit Reporting Act 15 U.S.C. § 1681s-2(b))
Against Defendants)

IC – Failure to Reinvestigate.

79. Plaintiff realleges and incorporates herein the allegation in each and every paragraph above as though fully set forth herein.
80. 15 USC 1681s-2(b) and 15 USC 1681i-(a)1 prohibits furnishers from providing any information relating to a consumer to any consumer reporting agency if the person knows or has reasonable cause to believe that the information is inaccurate or misleading and requires a furnisher to update and or correct inaccurate information after being notified by a consumer reporting agency of a dispute by a consumer.
81. Defendant IC violated section 1681s-2(b) by failing to conduct a reasonable investigation and re-reporting misleading and inaccurate account information.
82. The CRAs provided notice to IC that Plaintiff was disputing the inaccurate and misleading information, but IC failed to conduct a reasonable investigation of the information.
83. Based on Plaintiff's dispute, IC should have known its account was included in Plaintiff's Chapter 7 discharge and therefore could not have been opened after entry of Plaintiff's discharge.
84. The most basic investigation would include a simple review of well-established credit reporting industry standards.
85. Plaintiff alleges IC did not review well established industry standards for credit reporting.

86. If IC had reviewed such standards IC would have seen its reporting was not in compliance and consequently inaccurate and or incomplete.
87. Such an investigation would be unreasonable.
88. Plaintiff also alleges that IC did not investigate whether Plaintiff filed for bankruptcy and whether a discharge was entered, as the tradeline implies that the account was opened after the bankruptcy filing
89. The lack of investigation is unreasonable.

Experian – Failure to Reinvestigate Disputed Information.

90. Plaintiff realleges and incorporates herein the allegation in each and every paragraph above as though fully set forth herein.
91. After Plaintiff disputed the accounts mentioned above, Experian was required to conduct a reasonable investigation and to delete any information that was not accurate under 15 USC 1681i-(a)1.
92. Experian failed to conduct a reasonable investigation and failed to correct the misleading and or inaccurate statements on the account within the statutory time frame or at all.
93. Plaintiff alleges that Experian has its own independent duty to conduct a reasonable investigation 15 USC 1681i-(a)1.
94. Experian is not a passive entity bound to report whatever information a data furnisher, such as IC, provides.
95. Plaintiff alleges that Experian is readily familiar with Metro 2 guidelines and credit reporting industry standards given that Experian helped draft said guidelines.
96. Given the aforementioned, Plaintiff alleges that Experian can and does suppress inaccurate information from being reported when DFs provide inaccurate information.
97. Experian can and does instruct DFs on how to properly report certain accounts from time to time upon request from the DF.
98. Experian failed to conduct a reasonable investigation because any basic investigation would have uncovered that certain DFs were not following credit reporting industry standards.

99. Experian therefore did not do the most basic investigation regarding credit reporting industry standards otherwise the aforementioned would have been uncovered and the error corrected.
100. Experian intentionally, willfully or with reckless disregard for Plaintiff's accuracy did no investigation whatsoever given that Experian general policy is to simply parrot whatever information a data-furnishers sends.
101. Such policy and procedure inherently leads to inaccurate information being reported and therefore such an investigation is wholly unreasonable and reckless i.e. willful.

THIRD CAUSE OF ACTION

(Violation of Fair Credit Reporting Act 15 U.S.C. § 1681i(a)(4))
Against Defendants)

Experian – Failure to Review and Consider All Relevant Information.

102. Plaintiff realleges and incorporates herein the allegation in each and every paragraph above as though fully set forth herein.
103. TransUnion violated 15 U.S.C. § 1681i(a)(4) by failing to review and consider all relevant information submitted by Plaintiff.
104. As a result of Experian's violation of 15 U.S.C. § 1681i(a)(4), Plaintiff suffered actual damages, including but not limited to, damage to reputation, embarrassment, humiliation, and other mental and emotional distress.
105. The violations by Experian were willful, rendering Experian individually liable for punitive damages in an amount to be determines by the Court pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 1681n.
106. In the alternative, Experian was negligent, which entitles Plaintiff to recovery under 15 U.S.C. § 1681o.
107. Plaintiff is entitled to recover actual damages, statutory damages, costs and attorney's fees from Experian in an amount to be determines by the Court pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 1681n and § 1681o.

FOURTH CAUSE OF ACTION

(Violation of Fair Credit Reporting Act 15 U.S.C. § 1681i(a)(5)(A))
Against Defendants)

Experian – Failure to Delete Disputed and Inaccurate Information.

108. Plaintiff realleges and incorporates herein the allegation in each and every paragraph above as though fully set forth herein.
109. Experian violated 15 U.S.C. § 1681i(a)(5)(A) by failing to promptly delete the disputed inaccurate items of information from Plaintiff's credit file or modify the item of information upon a lawful reinvestigation.
110. As a result of Experian's violation of 15 U.S.C. § 1681i(a)(5)(A), Plaintiff suffered actual damages, including but not limited to, damage to reputation, embarrassment, humiliation, and other mental and emotional distress.
111. The violations by Experian were willful, rendering Experian individually liable for punitive damages in an amount to be determines by the Court pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 1681n.
112. In the alternative, Experian was negligent, which entitles Plaintiff to recovery under 15 U.S.C. § 1681o.
113. Plaintiff is entitled to recover actual damages, statutory damages, costs and attorney's fees from Experian in an amount to be determines by the Court pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 1681n and § 1681o.

Wherefore, Plaintiff prays for judgment as hereinafter set forth.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Plaintiff prays for judgment as follows:

1. For preliminary and permanent injunctive relief to stop Defendants from engaging in the conduct described above;
2. Award statutory and actual damages pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 1681n,
3. Award punitive damages in order to deter further unlawful conduct pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 1681n,
4. Award attorney's fees and costs of suit incurred herein pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 1681n & o,

5. For determination by the Court that Creditor's policies and practices are unlawful and in willful violation of 15 U.S.C. § 1681n, et seq.; and
6. For determination by the Court that Creditor's policies and practices are unlawful and in negligent violation of 15 U.S.C. § 1681o.
